Those Distant Bells are Ringing

I know I'm going early but it feels like Christmas is almost upon us. As I walk around school, the sounds of Christmas songs are drifting in the air, camels and angel costumes are hiding in corners and cardboard boxes are multiplying by the minute in readiness for props! On top of this, and to help remind me to get on with my Christmas shopping, the PTFA are holding a Christmas Market this Sunday (26th November) from 11am - 3pm. The market will have stalls from a range on independent traders, so please come along and get some goodies ready for Christmas. And finally, we had lots of shoe boxes beautifully wrapped and brought to school for the Reverend Andrew to collect and on behalf of him, myself and the children who will receive them, thank you for your generosity and the way you showed our current school value of Koinonia. Have a great weekend!
